2018 Yahoo RDSS, Technical - Multiple Openings （研發替代役）

Millions of people visit the Yahoo homepage for news, sports, finance, email, and more.

A Little About Us

Our engineering teams are focused on delivering the best products across, Ecommerce, Search, Media, Mobile and Homepage just to name a few, and we have fun while we do it. Our team structure encourages trust, learning from one another, having fun, and attracting people who are passionate about what they do.

A Lot About You

Yahoo is seeking Software talents with passion, creativity and innovation! You will work hand in hand with world-class teams of other Software Engineers, Designers and Product Managers to build amazing and emotional experiences that will delight our users.

As an engineer, you will be participating in the full life cycle of a large project and is responsible for plan, design, ,implement, develop, deliver and unit testing of various modules and products using agile methods. To drive technical excellence in the team you will be responsible for delivering high quality code and performing peer reviews to maintain code standard.

Join us to immerse yourself in an energetic environment, closely access yourself to cutting edge technology and participate yourself in the exciting and dynamic Internet Industry!

Eligibilities for RDSS positions:

Master in Computer Sciences or related majors with good academic records.

Apply Now:

Please submit your English CV and the Official Transcript to: https://goo.gl/dcNA5f